Lesson Plan

Class: First Secondary Unit 3 Session: 1 of 3 — Vocabulary Title: What Will Be, Will Be — Listen and Discuss (SB pp. 34–35)

Day/Date: Week 6, Sun 16/4/1448 (Sep 27, 2026) Prior Knowledge: Students can form basic sentences in the simple past and simple present and have had informal exposure to will for the future from previous units.

Sat	Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed

Objectives	Procedures Techniques and activities	Time	Teaching and learning Strategies	Resources	Evaluation (tools and Techniques)	Transfer of Learning
Activate prior knowledge about the future; predict the unit theme “What Will Be, Will Be” from the title and photos.	Write the unit title on the board and ask students what the expression means, and whether their own language has a similar saying; have a few students share a personal experience where the expression applied; direct attention to the photos on SB p.34 and have Ss predict the unit theme.	8 min	Whole-class brainstorming, personalization, prediction	SB p.34, Board	Oral responses to warm-up questions	Link the unit expression to real-life uncertainty about the future before reading
Identify sentences that talk about the future versus the past in “A Vision of the Future”; recognize will as a future marker; understand the term “visionary.”	Introduce Jules Verne (French novelist, 1828–1905, “father of science fiction”); play the audio for the text with books closed, then again as Ss follow along in the book; ask comprehension questions (e.g. “What did Jules Verne say life would be like?”); Ss work individually to find sentences about the future and the past (task 2, p.34); review irregular past tense verbs in the text (wrote, dove, became).	15 min	Listen-and-follow, guided Q&A, individual task	SB p.34, class audio	Oral Q&A checking future/past sentence identification	Students explain why Verne is called a “visionary” and name a modern-day visionary
Use unit vocabulary (novel, restaurant, car, appliance, cut) in context; determine which 1955 predictions came true.	Direct Ss to the photos on SB p.35; play the audio of the six 1955 predictions, then again as Ss follow along; call on Ss to read each prediction aloud and say whether it came true; Ss complete Quick Check A (scan pp.34–35 for the missing words) and Quick Check B (mark which predictions came true); check answers as a class.	17 min	Listen-and-follow, scanning for specific information, individual work checked as a class	SB p.35, audio, Board	Quick Check A & B checked as a class	Students discuss one prediction they would make about the year 2050
Use future forms to make original predictions about life in the year 2050 (Pair Work, p.35).	In pairs, Ss think of one thing used today and predict how its features will change in 30–40 years, using the modeled example (“There won’t be any more cars. People will travel in vehicles that ride through the air.”); pairs share predictions with the class as the teacher compiles a list on the board; assign Workbook pp.239–240 for homework practice with will/be going to.	5 min	Pair work, whole-class reporting, wrap-up	SB p.35, Workbook pp.239–240, Board	Teacher monitoring of pair-work predictions; board compilation	Homework: Workbook pp.239–240 will/be going to practice

Class: First Secondary Unit 3 Session: 2 of 3 — Grammar Title: What Will Be, Will Be — Grammar: Future with Will/Be Going To (SB pp. 36–37)

Day/Date: Week 6, Mon 17/4/1448 (Sep 28, 2026) Prior Knowledge: Students can identify future-referring sentences using will from the Listen and Discuss texts and know the future-related vocabulary introduced in Unit 3, Session 1.

Sat	Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed

Objectives	Procedures Techniques and activities	Time	Teaching and learning Strategies	Resources	Evaluation (tools and Techniques)	Transfer of Learning
Review that English has no dedicated future tense; recognize will and be going to for predictions in affirmative, negative, question, and short-answer forms.	Ask 2–3 students to restate a prediction from yesterday's Pair Work; direct attention to the Future with Will or Be Going To chart on SB p.36; have volunteers read the affirmative/negative/question examples aloud; explain that will is also used for offers or promises made at the moment of speaking ("We don't have any milk. I'll get some.").	8 min	Oral review, guided reading of grammar chart, teacher explanation	SB p.36, Board	Oral review of prior predictions	Students give one on-the-spot offer or promise using will
Distinguish be going to (a decided plan) from will (uncertainty, often with maybe/probably); form the future progressive (will/be going to + be + present participle) for continuous future actions.	Go over the Will versus Be Going To and Future Progressive boxes on SB p.36; model exchanges using I guess so / I hope not / I think so / I don't think so (e.g. A: "People won't drive cars." B: "I think so..."); Ss make their own affirmative and negative predictions, and classmates respond agreeing or disagreeing with reasons.	15 min	Modeling, guided oral practice, chain drilling	SB p.36, Board	Teacher monitors accuracy of will/be going to choice during the oral drill	Students justify their opinion instead of only agreeing or disagreeing
Complete six prediction sentences using will, be going to, or the future progressive (Exercise A, p.36); discuss which everyday items will still be in use in 50 years (Exercise B, p.37).	Ss work individually to complete Exercise A (e.g. "people will live/are going to live on other planets"), then read answers aloud, noting more than one form is possible; in small groups for Exercise B, Ss look at the six photos (ballpoint pens, cell phone, personal computer, magazines, flat screen TV, microwave oven), discuss and give reasons for which will still be used in 50 years, then report back to class.	17 min	Individual practice, small-group discussion, class reporting	SB pp.36–37	Exercise A checked as a class; group reasoning in Exercise B monitored	Students name one item not pictured that they predict will disappear
Ask and answer questions using will about whether world issues will be solved in the next 50 years (Exercise C, p.37).	Model the example exchange (A: "Do you think there will be enough food for everyone in the world?" B: "I believe there will be.") with two students; in pairs, Ss take turns asking and answering about the listed issues, giving reasons; quick class wrap-up eliciting a few answers; assign Workbook pp.241–242 for further grammar practice.	5 min	Pair work, guided oral practice, homework assignment	SB p.37, Workbook pp.241–242	Teacher monitoring of pair-work Q&A	Homework: Workbook pp.241–242 future forms practice

Class: First Secondary Unit 3 Session: 3 of 3 — Reading Title: What Will Be, Will Be — Reading: The Tulsa Time Capsule (SB pp. 40–41)
Day/Date: Week 6, Tue 18/4/1448 (Sep 29, 2026) Prior Knowledge: Students can use future and past forms accurately after Unit 3 Grammar and can guess word meaning from context.

Objectives	Procedures Techniques and activities	Time	Teaching and learning Strategies	Resources	Evaluation (tools and Techniques)	Transfer of Learning
Predict content from the title “The Tulsa Time Capsule” and photos; preview by matching five headings to the article’s five paragraphs.	Ask students what U.S. state Tulsa is in (Oklahoma) and what the title makes them think of; direct attention to the photos on SB pp.40–41 and ask what details help them understand the title (Reading Strategy: Analyzing Pictures); read the five heading choices (a–e) aloud and have Ss scan the article to match a heading to each paragraph before reading closely.	8 min	Prediction, picture analysis, scanning	SB pp.40–41	Oral checking of heading–paragraph matches	Students share any prior knowledge of time capsules
Understand the sequence of events in “The Tulsa Time Capsule” (burial in 1957, contents, 50-year wait, 2007 opening).	Ss read paragraph 1 silently; ask “What was the Tulsa Time Capsule? Why did they do it?”; play the audio as Ss follow along in their books for the rest of the article; in pairs, Ss reread one paragraph at a time and retell the main idea to their partner in their own words; circulate and check retellings.	15 min	Listen-and-follow, paired retelling, monitored reading	SB pp.40–41, class audio	Teacher monitoring of paired retellings for accuracy	Students connect the story to King Tut’s tomb, discussed as a class
Choose the correct meaning of six words from context (gather, witness, bobby pin, obsolete, vault, withstand — Exercise A); answer comprehension questions about the time capsule’s purpose and outcome (Exercise B).	Ss complete Exercise A individually then check in pairs; review unclear vocabulary as a class; Ss work in pairs to answer Exercise B questions (e.g. “What was the purpose of burying the car?”, “What was the bad news in 2007?”); pairs present answers to the class.	17 min	Individual work, pair-check, class reporting	SB p.41	Exercise A and B answers checked as a class	Students relate the “bad news” (rust, missing microfilm) to real-life lessons about preservation
Complete three sentences about the reading in their own words using future/modal forms (Exercise C); discuss personal knowledge of “hidden treasure” stories.	Ss complete Exercise C individually (e.g. “In 50 years time... people will ___”), avoiding copying directly from the text; compare answers in groups and read sentences aloud; lead the Discussion question about “hidden treasure,” briefly mentioning treasure found on sunken ships as an extension; preview next lesson’s Writing topic (Keeper of Hidden Treasure).	5 min	Individual writing, group sharing, whole-class discussion	SB p.41	Teacher review of Exercise C sentences	Students connect today’s reading to next lesson’s “hidden treasure” writing topic

Based directly on your MegaGoal 1 Student Book and Teacher's Guide, Unit 3 “What Will Be, Will Be” (SB pp. 34–53). Page references and exercise names match your actual textbook.

Day/Date: Week 5, Day 1 of 6 Prior Knowledge: Students have completed all core tenses (present, past, perfect, future) from Weeks 3-4 and can form simple and compound sentences.

Sat	Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed

Objectives	Procedures Techniques and activities	Time	Teaching and learning Strategies	Resources	Evaluation (tools and Techniques)	Transfer of Learning
Activate prior knowledge of simple sentences; introduce time connectors as a way to join two clauses showing a time relationship.	Warm-up: write two short simple sentences on the board ("I finished my homework. I watched TV.") and ask Ss how to combine them using a time word; elicit "after"/"when"; present the list of time connectors (before, after, when, while, as soon as, until) with one example sentence each, highlighting comma use when the time clause comes first.	8 min	Whole-class elicitation, rule presentation, board work	Whiteboard	Oral questioning	Students combine one pair of sentences orally using a time connector
Practice forming complex sentences using time connectors with correct tense sequencing and comma placement.	Guided practice — Ss work in pairs to combine 6 sentence pairs using target connectors (before, after, when, while, as soon as, until, by the time); teacher circulates checking tense agreement (e.g. "By the time she arrived, we had left" uses past perfect) and punctuation; review answers as a class with volunteers writing on the board.	15 min	Pair work, guided practice, error correction	Whiteboard, sentence-combining handout (6 pairs)	Pair-check, teacher monitoring	Students correctly punctuate and sequence tenses in at least 4 of 6 combined sentences
Apply time connector knowledge to STEP-style multiple-choice questions under timed conditions.	Individual timed practice — Ss complete the STEP topic worksheet (Time Connectors, 10 MCQs) choosing the correct connector/tense in context; teacher sets a 10-minute timer to simulate exam pacing; when time is up, Ss self-check against the answer key printed on the same page and mark their own score; teacher reviews the 2-3 most commonly missed items on the board, focusing on distractor logic (e.g. "until" vs. "by the time").	17 min	Independent timed practice, self-correction, error analysis	STEP topic worksheet — Time Connectors (10 Qs + answers on same page, self-checked in class)	Self-checked worksheet score, teacher-led distractor analysis	Students independently score 7/10 or higher on the timed worksheet
Consolidate time connector rules and preview the next session.	Rapid-fire oral review — teacher calls out a connector, Ss give one example sentence; exit ticket: Ss write one sentence using a time connector of their choice on an index card, collected as a formative check; brief preview of tomorrow's topic (IF Conditions).	5 min	Rapid recall, exit ticket	Index cards, whiteboard	Exit ticket review	Students produce one grammatically correct sentence with a time connector unaided
