Class: First Secondary Unit 4 Session: 1 of 3 — Vocabulary Title: The Art of Advertising — Listen and Discuss (SB pp. 54–55)
Day/Date: Week 9, Sun 7/5/1448 (Oct 18, 2026) Prior Knowledge: Students can describe objects using simple adjectives and are familiar with basic present/past tense forms.

Sat	Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed

Objectives	Procedures Techniques and activities	Time	Teaching and learning Strategies	Resources	Evaluation (tools and Techniques)	Transfer of Learning
Activate prior knowledge about advertising and predict the content of the three product ads (compact car, suitcase, fold-up bike) from the photos before reading.	Warm-up: Ask students about ads they remember from TV, radio, magazines, or billboards; have them describe an ad and say whether they liked it, and elicit what claims advertisements make (e.g. “You will lose 10 kilos in only 5 days!”) to draw out comparative/superlative language. Direct Ss to open SB pp.54–55, look at the three product photos (compact car, suitcase, fold-up bike) without reading, and write as many words as they can think of for each; ask: What is each photo of?	8 min	Whole-class brainstorming, picture prediction, elicitation	SB pp.54–55, Board	Oral questioning of predicted vocabulary	Students connect advertising claims they hear in real life to the unit theme
Read the three product texts (Compact Cars, Suitcase, Fold-up Bike/About Bicycles) for gist and scan for the comparative/superlative adjectives used to advertise each product.	With books closed, play the audio for the three texts straight through; play again as Ss follow along in their books, circling unfamiliar words/expressions and checking them with a partner. Ss scan the ads again and label each comparative adjective with C and each superlative with S (e.g. smaller, lighter, easier, less bulky = C; most expensive, smoothest = S); check as a class and ask: What is the superlative of less bulky? (least bulky)	15 min	Listen-and-follow, pair vocabulary check, guided noticing of grammar in context	SB pp.54–55, class audio	Oral Q&A on comparative/superlative labels	Students identify comparative/superlative claims in ads they encounter outside class
Consolidate unit vocabulary describing the three products and check comprehension with Quick Check A (vocabulary) and Quick Check B (true/false).	Quick Check A: draw a 3-column chart on the board (Car / Suitcase / Bike); Ss individually or in pairs list descriptive words for each product from the texts (e.g. tiny classic, most expensive, portable, less bulky) and volunteers fill in the board chart. Quick Check B: Ss work individually to mark six statements true or false (e.g. ‘The new FIAT 500 is one of the world’s most compact cars’ – true); check as a class, one student reading each statement and the class responding true/false.	17 min	Individual work, board charting, whole-class checking	SB p.55, Board	Quick Check A & B checked as a class	Students describe a product of their own choosing using at least two adjectives from the chart
Turn factual statements from the texts into questions and practice asking/answering them in pairs (Pair Work A); choose a favorite product and justify it (Pair Work B).	Pair Work A: Ss find factual sentences in the p.54–55 texts and turn them into questions (model: ‘What were the first bikes made of?’ → ‘They were made of wood.’), then ask and answer in pairs, using comparative/superlative language where possible (e.g. ‘How does the fold-up bike compare to a standard bike in size?’ ‘It’s smaller and less bulky.’). Pair Work B: Ss choose a product they like and write two reasons; share with a partner. Assign Workbook p.255 for vocabulary homework.	5 min	Pair work, teacher monitoring	SB p.55, Workbook p.255	Teacher monitoring of pair-work questions and reasons	Homework: Workbook p.255 vocabulary practice

Class: First Secondary Unit 4 Session: 2 of 3 — Grammar Title: The Art of Advertising — Grammar (SB pp. 56–57)

Day/Date: Week 9, Mon 8/5/1448 (Oct 19, 2026) Prior Knowledge: Students can form simple present, past and future tense sentences and know basic adjectives; they have just reviewed unit vocabulary from Listen and Discuss.

Sat	Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed

Objectives	Procedures Techniques and activities	Time	Teaching and learning Strategies	Resources	Evaluation (tools and Techniques)	Transfer of Learning
Understand how the passive is formed (be + past participle) across simple present, simple past, present perfect and future, and use it to change active sentences to passive (Grammar Ex. A).	Go over the passive chart on SB p.56 (This car is made in Japan / The suitcase was developed in the Netherlands / Our products have been used… / A clean engine will be produced…); point out that the by-phrase naming the agent is optional. Model on the board: 'The boy broke the window.' → 'The window was broken by the boy.' Ss then work individually on Ex. A (SB p.56), rewriting 8 sentences (e.g. 'Karl Benz made the first car in 1886' → 'The first car was made by Karl Benz in 1886') from active to passive; volunteers read their answers, and discuss when the by-agent is necessary vs. optional (needed in 1, 4, 5, 6; optional in 2, 3, 7).	12 min	Teacher modeling, individual practice, guided agent-use analysis	SB p.56, Board	Volunteers read passive sentences; class checks agent use	Students spot passive sentences in real ads or news headlines
Apply the passive in connected text by completing the perfume paragraph (Ex. B, SB p.57) with the correct tense of the passive.	Ss work individually to complete the ten gaps in the paragraph about the history of perfume with the passive form of the verb given (e.g. 1. are made, 4. was opened, 9. was launched); check answers by calling on students to read completed sentences aloud. For extra practice, ask stronger students to rewrite one or two sentences back into the active voice, adding 'by people' only where needed for clarity.	10 min	Individual gap-fill, whole-class oral check, differentiated extension	SB p.57	Oral reading of completed paragraph checked against answer key	Students write one sentence about a product's history using the passive
Review comparative/superlative adjective forms and as…as structures, and the verbs look/smell/sound/taste + like + noun; complete the ad gap-fill (Ex. C) and the like-verb exercise (Ex. E).	Go over the comparatives/superlatives chart (clean → cleaner → the cleanest; expensive → more expensive → the most expensive) and the as…as / not as…as examples ('The special suitcase is as expensive as a car.'); briefly compare classroom objects to practice (e.g. 'This paper is smaller.'). Go over the look/smell/sound/taste + like + noun examples. Ss complete Ex. C individually, filling four ads with the correct comparative/superlative (perfume ad: most refreshing; toothpaste ad: cleaner, brighter; pet food ad: healthier; hand-held device ad: most reliable), then compare in pairs and read the ads aloud. Ss complete Ex. E (choose look/smell/sound/taste) individually and check as a class.	18 min	Chart review, guided practice with classroom realia, individual gap-fill, pair comparison	SB pp.56–57, Board, classroom objects	Ex. C and E checked as a class; ads read aloud	Students write one advertising sentence using a superlative and one using look/sound/smell/taste like
Give and justify an opinion on the most effective ad in Ex. C, and consolidate the session's grammar.	In pairs, Ss discuss which ad in Ex. C is the best/most effective and why, focusing on which ad would make them want to buy the product; a few pairs share their opinion with the class. Quick class review: elicit one example each of the passive, a comparative, a superlative, and an as…as sentence from the lesson. Assign Workbook pp.256–258 for further grammar practice.	5 min	Pair discussion, whole-class wrap-up	SB p.57, Workbook pp.256–258	Teacher monitoring of pair discussion and wrap-up responses	Homework: Workbook pp.256–258 grammar practice

Class: First Secondary Unit 4 Session: 3 of 3 — Reading Title: The Art of Advertising — Reading (SB pp. 60–61)

Day/Date: Week 9, Tue 9/5/1448 (Oct 20, 2026) Prior Knowledge: Students can use the passive and comparative/superlative forms from the Grammar session and are familiar with the unit theme of advertising and products.

Objectives	Procedures Techniques and activities	Time	Teaching and learning Strategies	Resources	Evaluation (tools and Techniques)	Transfer of Learning
Predict the content of ‘The World of Plastic’ from the title and photos, and learn the reading strategy of analyzing paragraphs for main ideas.	Ask the Before Reading question: What words do you think of when you read ‘credit card’? Have students read the title ‘The World of Plastic’ and look at the photos on SB p.60, discuss what the title might mean, and share prior ideas about the pros and cons of credit cards. Explain the Reading Strategy: a paragraph usually has one or two sentences that state the main idea and several that support it; tell Ss to pay attention to each year mentioned in the reading and what happened, since the text is a chronology of credit-card use.	8 min	Prediction discussion, reading-strategy instruction	SB p.60	Oral prediction responses	Students connect the term ‘plastic’ to real electronic/credit payment they see at home
Read/listen to ‘The World of Plastic’ (paragraphs 1–6) for gist, answer comprehension questions, and record key dates on the timeline.	Play the audio as Ss follow along in their books; ask comprehension questions, e.g. What was the ‘First Supper’ in the credit card industry? (the first time Frank McNamara used a credit card); What happened in 1955? (a credit card was accepted by an airline for the first time); When was the first rewards program created? (1984). Play the audio a second time, paragraph by paragraph, and have Ss underline the sentence in each paragraph that states the main idea; Ss complete the timeline on SB p.60 with the dates 1949, 1950, 1952 and later dates, writing a sentence for each (model given: ‘1949: Frank couldn’t pay for dinner because he forgot his wallet.’).	15 min	Listen-and-follow, guided comprehension Q&A, paragraph-main-idea analysis, timeline note-taking	SB p.60, class audio	Oral comprehension answers; timeline entries checked	Students retell one paragraph's main idea in their own words to a partner
Use context to choose the correct meaning of seven key words (Ex. A), identify words with the negative prefixes in-/im- (Ex. B), and answer seven comprehension questions about the text (Ex. C).	Ss work individually on After Reading Ex. A (SB p.61), choosing the correct meaning of inconceivable, impractical, limited, status symbol, cash in, franchise, and revolutionize from paragraph context; check as a class. Ex. B: with a dictionary, Ss write three words each starting with in- and im- meaning ‘not’. Ex. C: Ss answer the seven comprehension questions individually (e.g. How long have credit cards been available? Why was Frank McNamara embarrassed?), then check in pairs by asking/answering each question aloud, one student asking and the next answering.	17 min	Individual vocabulary-in-context work, dictionary work, pair Q&A checking	SB p.61, dictionaries	Ex. A, B, C checked as a class and in pairs	Students use one new in-/im- word in a sentence about themselves
Discuss what life would be like without credit cards and consolidate the reading.	Class discussion on the Discussion prompt (SB p.61): What do you think the world would be like without credit cards? Encourage Ss to think of specific situations such as shopping online, buying airline tickets, or downloading programs. Quick recap of the reading's timeline and key vocabulary; assign Workbook pp.260–261 for further reading/vocabulary practice.	5 min	Whole-class discussion, wrap-up	SB p.61, Workbook pp.260–261	Teacher observation of discussion contributions	Homework: Workbook pp.260–261 reading/vocabulary practice

Class: STEP Program Week 7 Session: 1 of 5 — Modal Verbs & Auxiliaries Title: STEP Complete Grammar — Modal Verbs & Auxiliary Verbs

Day/Date: Week 7, Day 1 of 5 Prior Knowledge: Students have completed all core and advanced tenses (Weeks 3-4, 6) and basic pronoun/word-level foundations; this is their first Complete-Grammar session on verb-form/auxiliary systems.

Sat	Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed

Objectives	Procedures Techniques and activities	Time	Teaching and learning Strategies	Resources	Evaluation (tools and Techniques)	Transfer of Learning
Review the core modal verbs and their meanings (ability, permission, obligation, possibility, advice: can/could, may/might, must/have to, should) at Complete-Grammar depth; distinguish modal auxiliaries from the primary auxiliary verbs be/do/have.	Warm-up: write six modal verbs on the board (can, could, must, should, may, might) and elicit one meaning/example sentence for each from students; present a summary chart grouping modals by function (ability: can/could; obligation: must/have to; advice: should; permission: can/may; possibility: may/might); contrast with primary auxiliaries be/do/have in a quick matching drill (identify which word is a modal vs. a primary auxiliary in given sentences).	8 min	Whole-class elicitation, rule presentation, board chart	Whiteboard	Oral questioning	Students state the correct modal for a given function (obligation, advice, possibility, permission) on the spot
Apply modal verbs accurately to express obligation, possibility, permission, and advice in context; use the primary auxiliaries be/do/have correctly across different tense, question, and negative structures (e.g., do-support in negatives/questions, be as progressive/passive auxiliary, have as perfect auxiliary).	Guided practice: teacher presents sentence frames requiring students to insert the correct modal (e.g., 'You ___ wear a seatbelt' = must; 'You ___ ask before borrowing' = should); contrast auxiliary do-support across present/past negatives and questions, and review be/have as auxiliaries in progressive, passive, and perfect structures side by side with modals; students work in pairs correcting a short set of sentences that mix modal and primary-auxiliary errors.	15 min	Guided practice, pair work, error correction	Whiteboard, STEP topic worksheet — Modal Verbs (10 Qs + answers on same page, self-checked in class)	Pair-check of corrected sentences, teacher monitoring during pair work	Apply the correct modal or auxiliary verb accurately in new, unpracticed sentences
Consolidate modal-verb and auxiliary-verb knowledge through independent STEP-style multiple-choice practice, replicating exam question formats and time pressure.	Students complete the STEP topic worksheet on Modal Verbs & Auxiliary Verbs individually and silently (10 multiple-choice items); on completion, students self-check against the answers printed on the same worksheet page and flag any items they got wrong for immediate peer or teacher clarification.	17 min	Independent practice, self-correction against answer key	STEP topic worksheet — Modal Verbs & Auxiliary Verbs (10 Qs + answers on same page, self-checked in class), Whiteboard	Worksheet self-check against printed answer key; teacher spot-checks commonly missed items	Apply modal and auxiliary verb rules accurately under timed, exam-like multiple-choice conditions
Consolidate the session by reviewing the most commonly confused modal/auxiliary error patterns and confirm readiness to build on this foundation with perfect modals next session.	Whole-class review of the two or three worksheet items most students missed, with teacher re-explaining the rule on the board; quick exit-ticket question requiring students to write one sentence using a modal of obligation and one using a primary auxiliary in a question form.	5 min	Whole-class review, exit ticket	Whiteboard	Exit ticket (one obligation-modal sentence + one auxiliary-question sentence)	Recall modal functions accurately as a foundation for next session's perfect modals (must have/could have/should have)

Lesson Plan

Class: STEP Program Week 7 Session: 2 of 5 — Perfect Modals & Subject-Verb Agreement Title: STEP Complete Grammar — Perfect Modals & Subject-Verb Agreement
Day/Date: Week 7, Day 2 of 5 Prior Knowledge: Students have reviewed present-time modal verbs and primary auxiliaries (Week 7, Day 1) and all core/advanced tenses (Weeks 3-4, 6).

Sat	Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed

Objectives	Procedures Techniques and activities	Time	Teaching and learning Strategies	Resources	Evaluation (tools and Techniques)	Transfer of Learning
Form and use perfect modals (must have, could have, should have + past participle) to express past speculation, deduction, possibility, and regret/criticism; distinguish perfect modals from the present-time modals studied previously.	Warm-up: present a short scenario on the board (e.g., 'The classroom door was open and the lights were on when we arrived') and elicit possible past explanations using must have been / could have been / might have been; contrast must have (near-certain deduction) with should have (regret or criticism of a past action, e.g., 'You should have studied more') via paired example sentences.	8 min	Whole-class elicitation, scenario-based presentation	Whiteboard	Oral questioning	Students generate an appropriate perfect-modal sentence for a new scenario the teacher provides
Apply subject-verb agreement correctly in tricky cases: collective nouns (team, family, staff, government), each/every + singular verb, and compound subjects joined by and/or/nor; combine this with continued perfect-modal practice.	Present a rule chart with examples (The team is/are..., Each student has..., Neither the teacher nor the students were...); guided practice correcting subject-verb agreement errors embedded in sentences that also use perfect modals (e.g., 'The committee must have decide/decided...'); pair work identifying and fixing agreement errors in a short mixed set.	15 min	Rule presentation, guided practice, pair work	Whiteboard, STEP topic worksheet — Subject-Verb Agreement (10 Qs + answers on same page, self-checked in class)	Pair-check of corrected sentences, teacher monitoring during pair work	Apply correct verb agreement with tricky subjects (collective nouns, each/every, compound subjects) in new sentences
Consolidate perfect modals and subject-verb agreement through independent STEP-style multiple-choice practice covering both topics.	Students complete two STEP topic worksheets individually and silently (Perfect Modals, 10 items; Subject-Verb Agreement, 10 items), then self-check both against the answers printed on the same pages, flagging missed items for clarification.	17 min	Independent practice, self-correction against answer key	STEP topic worksheet — Perfect Modals (10 Qs + answers on same page, self-checked in class), STEP topic worksheet — Subject-Verb Agreement (10 Qs + answers on same page, self-checked in class)	Worksheet self-check against printed answer keys; teacher spot-checks commonly missed items	Apply perfect modals and subject-verb agreement accurately under timed, exam-like multiple-choice conditions
Consolidate the session by clarifying the most commonly confused perfect-modal and agreement error patterns before moving to passive/causative structures.	Whole-class review of the most frequently missed worksheet items from both topics, with teacher re-explaining on the board; quick exit-ticket question requiring one sentence with must have + past participle expressing deduction and one sentence correcting a collective-noun agreement error.	5 min	Whole-class review, exit ticket	Whiteboard	Exit ticket (one perfect-modal deduction sentence + one corrected agreement sentence)	Recall perfect-modal and agreement rules accurately as a foundation for upcoming passive/causative and mixed verb-form practice

Class: STEP Program Week 7 Session: 3 of 5 — The Passive Voice & The Causative Title: STEP Complete Grammar — The Passive Voice & The Causative

Day/Date: Week 7, Day 3 of 5 Prior Knowledge: Students have reviewed modal verbs, primary auxiliaries, perfect modals, and subject-verb agreement (Week 7, Days 1-2) and all core/advanced active-voice tenses (Weeks 3-4, 6).

Sat	Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed

Objectives	Procedures Techniques and activities	Time	Teaching and learning Strategies	Resources	Evaluation (tools and Techniques)	Transfer of Learning
Review passive voice formation (be + past participle) across all tenses (present simple, present continuous, past simple, present perfect, future) and recognize when the passive is used (unknown/unimportant agent, focus on the action or receiver of the action rather than the doer).	Warm-up: teacher writes an active sentence on the board and transforms it into the passive across five tenses (e.g., 'They build the house' -> 'The house is built'; 'They built the house' -> 'The house was built'; 'They have built the house' -> 'The house has been built'; 'They will build the house' -> 'The house will be built'); elicit the rule (object becomes subject; by + agent is optional) from students by comparison.	8 min	Whole-class elicitation, board transformation drill	Whiteboard	Oral questioning	Students transform a given active sentence into the passive in a specified tense on the spot
Introduce and apply the causative form (have/get + object + past participle) for actions arranged to be done by someone else; distinguish the causative from both active and passive structures.	Present example sentences (e.g., 'I had my hair cut' / 'She's getting her car repaired' / 'We had the roof fixed last month') and elicit the pattern (subject + have/get + object + past participle); guided practice transforming active sentences describing a service into causative sentences; pair work distinguishing genuine passive-voice sentences from causative sentences in a short mixed set.	15 min	Guided practice, pair work, contrastive analysis	Whiteboard, STEP topic worksheet — Passive Voice (10 Qs + answers on same page, self-checked in class)	Pair-check of transformed sentences, teacher monitoring during pair work	Correctly choose between active, passive, and causative structures depending on context
Consolidate the passive voice (all tenses) and the causative through independent STEP-style multiple-choice practice.	Students complete two STEP topic worksheets individually and silently (Passive Voice, 10 items; The Causative, 10 items), then self-check both against the answers printed on the same pages, flagging missed items for clarification.	17 min	Independent practice, self-correction against answer key	STEP topic worksheet — Passive Voice (10 Qs + answers on same page, self-checked in class), STEP topic worksheet — The Causative (10 Qs + answers on same page, self-checked in class)	Worksheet self-check against printed answer keys; teacher spot-checks commonly missed items	Apply passive voice and causative structures accurately under timed, exam-like multiple-choice conditions
Consolidate the session by clarifying passive/causative confusion points before moving to gerund and infinitive patterns.	Whole-class review of the most frequently missed worksheet items, with teacher re-explaining the be-vs-have/get distinction on the board; quick exit-ticket question requiring one passive sentence in a specified tense and one causative sentence.	5 min	Whole-class review, exit ticket	Whiteboard	Exit ticket (one passive-voice sentence + one causative sentence)	Recall passive and causative rules accurately as a foundation for upcoming gerund/infinitive and mixed verb-form practice

Class: STEP Program Week 7 Session: 4 of 5 — Gerund & Infinitive Title: STEP Complete Grammar — Gerund & Infinitive
Day/Date: Week 7, Day 4 of 5 Prior Knowledge: Students have reviewed modal verbs, perfect modals, subject-verb agreement, passive voice, and the causative (Week 7, Days 1-3).

Sat	Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed

Objectives	Procedures Techniques and activities	Time	Teaching and learning Strategies	Resources	Evaluation (tools and Techniques)	Transfer of Learning
Review verb patterns with the gerund (-ing) vs. the infinitive (to + verb) after common verbs (e.g., enjoy, avoid, finish + -ing; want, decide, plan + to-infinitive; verbs that can take either with a meaning change, e.g., stop doing vs. stop to do).	Warm-up: teacher presents a two-column chart on the board (verbs + -ing / verbs + to-infinitive) with common examples and elicits two or three more examples per column from students; highlight verbs whose meaning changes depending on gerund vs. infinitive (remember doing vs. remember to do; stop doing vs. stop to do).	8 min	Whole-class elicitation, two-column chart presentation	Whiteboard	Oral questioning	Students correctly choose gerund or infinitive after a given verb on the spot
Apply the infinitive of purpose (to + verb showing why an action is done, e.g., 'She went to the store to buy milk') and the negative infinitive (not to + verb, e.g., 'He decided not to go') accurately in sentences, alongside continued gerund/infinitive verb-pattern practice.	Present example sentences for infinitive of purpose and negative infinitive; guided practice combining a main clause with a purpose clause (using to + verb, not 'for') and forming negative-infinitive sentences from prompts; pair work completing sentences that require the student to choose gerund, infinitive, infinitive of purpose, or negative infinitive correctly.	15 min	Guided practice, pair work, sentence combining	Whiteboard, STEP topic worksheet — Gerund & Infinitive (10 Qs + answers on same page, self-checked in class)	Pair-check of completed sentences, teacher monitoring during pair work	Apply gerund/infinitive verb patterns, infinitive of purpose, and negative infinitive accurately in new sentences
Consolidate gerund/infinitive verb patterns, infinitive of purpose, and negative infinitive through independent STEP-style multiple-choice practice.	Students complete the STEP topic worksheet on Gerund & Infinitive (including infinitive-of-purpose and negative-infinitive items) individually and silently, then self-check against the answers printed on the same page, flagging missed items for clarification.	17 min	Independent practice, self-correction against answer key	STEP topic worksheet — Gerund & Infinitive (10 Qs + answers on same page, self-checked in class), Whiteboard	Worksheet self-check against printed answer key; teacher spot-checks commonly missed items	Apply gerund, infinitive, infinitive of purpose, and negative infinitive rules accurately under timed, exam-like multiple-choice conditions
Consolidate the session by clarifying the most commonly confused gerund/infinitive error patterns before moving to participle clauses and the week's mixed verb-forms review.	Whole-class review of the most frequently missed worksheet items, with teacher re-explaining tricky verb-pattern cases on the board; quick exit-ticket question requiring one sentence with a gerund, one with an infinitive of purpose, and one with a negative infinitive.	5 min	Whole-class review, exit ticket	Whiteboard	Exit ticket (gerund sentence + infinitive-of-purpose sentence + negative-infinitive sentence)	Recall gerund/infinitive rules accurately as a foundation for the week's final mixed verb-forms mastery session

Class: STEP Program Week 7 Session: 5 of 5 — Participle Clauses & Verb Forms Mastery Title: STEP Complete Grammar — Participle Clauses — Verb Forms Mastery Practice

Introduce participle clauses using -ing and -ed forms to reduce relative clauses and time clauses concisely (e.g., 'The man who is standing by the door' -> 'The man standing by the door'; 'Built in 1990, the school...' for a passive-meaning time/reason clause).	Warm-up: present pairs of sentences on the board — a full relative or time clause and its reduced participle-clause equivalent — and elicit the transformation rule (active/ongoing meaning uses -ing; passive/completed meaning uses -ed); model two or three transformations together as a class.	8 min	Whole-class elicitation, paired-sentence presentation	Whiteboard	Oral questioning	Students reduce a given relative or time clause into a participle clause on the spot
Apply -ing and -ed participle clauses accurately to reduce relative and time clauses in a range of sentences, reinforcing the passive/active distinction carried over from the passive-voice session.	Guided practice transforming full relative/time clauses into participle clauses from teacher-given prompts; pair work identifying whether a participle clause requires -ing or -ed based on the underlying meaning (active vs. passive/completed), then writing the reduced sentence.	15 min	Guided practice, pair work, transformation drill	Whiteboard, STEP topic worksheet — Participle Clauses (10 Qs + answers on same page, self-checked in class)	Pair-check of transformed sentences, teacher monitoring during pair work	Apply participle-clause rules accurately in new sentences requiring relative or time-clause reduction
Consolidate all of Week 7's verb-form topics — passive voice, the causative, gerund/infinitive patterns, and participle clauses — through comprehensive STEP-style error-identification and sentence-completion practice replicating the exam format.	Students complete a mixed STEP-style review worksheet individually and silently, combining error-identification items (spot the incorrect verb form in a sentence) and sentence-completion items (choose the correct passive, causative, gerund/infinitive, or participle-clause form) drawn from across the week's topics; students self-check against the answers printed on the same page and flag any pattern of repeated errors for the wrap-up.	17 min	Independent mixed practice, self-correction against answer key	STEP Week 7 mixed review worksheet — Verb Forms: Passive, Causative, Gerund/Infinitive & Participle Clauses (10 Qs + answers on same page, self-checked in class), STEP topic worksheet — Participle Clauses (10 Qs + answers on same page, self-checked in class)	Worksheet self-check against printed answer key; teacher spot-checks commonly missed items and error patterns across topics	Apply the full range of Week 7 verb-form rules accurately and efficiently under timed, exam-like error-identification and sentence-completion conditions
Consolidate and close out Week 7 by reviewing the verb-form topics that caused the most errors across all five sessions, confirming readiness for Week 8's conditionals and sentence-structure focus.	Whole-class review of the two or three error types that appeared most often in the mixed-practice worksheet, with teacher re-explaining each on the board; brief look-ahead framing to Week 8, noting that sentence structure and conditionals form the single most heavily-tested category on the STEP exam.	5 min	Whole-class review, teacher-led wrap-up	Whiteboard	Exit ticket (one corrected verb-form error from the mixed worksheet, explained in the student's own words)	Consolidate Week 7 verb-form mastery and transfer readiness into Week 8's higher-weighted conditionals and sentence-structure topics
